EVENT REPORT

Name of the activity: No Plastic Drive Events

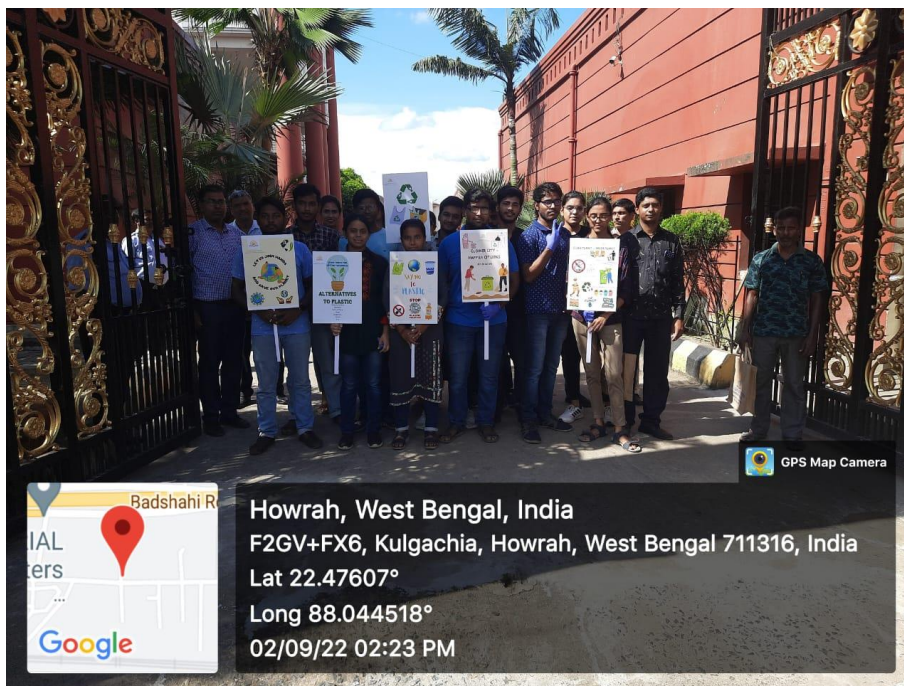

Date: 2.09.2022

Participants: 15

Organizing unit/ agency/ collaborating agency: NSS unit

A clean mind, replete with a clear conscience and a logical thought process, is often manifested through the way in which a person treats their surroundings. Taking cue from this principle, in juxtaposition with our country's pledge to render our surroundings cleaner, greener and pollution-free, we organised a Swachh Bharat Abhiyan campaign outside the college premises on 2.09.2022, from 2 P.M onwards. Armed with placards containing meaningful slogans and information, and brooms, 15 student participants marched steadily outside the college campus, into a neighbouring area, consisting of several local shops and eateries, thereby, littered with a lot of organic and inorganic waste materials. Under the guidance and supervision of the teachers, some students stood on each side of the road with the placards, while others picked up their brooms, dusted the road and collected littered trash to dispose of them in dustbins, which were being carried by college staff. This not only helped students to convey a strong message of awareness and hope among the onlookers, but also generated a sense of team-building among them. It was an instance in which students received the opportunity to learn by 'doing'. We hope to organise more of such events in future.

Language is one of the finest weapons invented and owned by the human kind. It is through language that we communicate with each other, and it is through language that we remain united as a nation. To commemorate Mother Language Day, the Science and Humanities department of OmDayal Group of Institutions organised a cultural programme on 21.02.2022. The programme was based on mother tongues of India, and it was enriched with performances from students, along with short, but impactful speeches by two faculty members. Students performed on the theme of 'mother tongue' (Matribhasha), as they put up a milieu of songs, instrumental music, painting, essays and calligraphy. The programme helped the students showcase their talent, and uphold the dignity of their respective mother tongues.

Communication is one of the pillars behind the steady functioning of any society, as it fosters mutual understanding among people, and helps them in assimilating themselves with the intricacies of Indian culture, values and traditions from diverse perspectives. With such beliefs and ideals in mind, The Department of Science and Humanities organised an Impromptu Speaking Competition for all students on 15.03.2022 at the college language laboratory, from 10:00 AM onwards. The competition beckoned student participants to speak on a particular topic which was given to them on the spot. The topics encompassed a myriad of areas pertaining to Indian Tradition and Culture and allowed students to voice their individual opinions and share their ideas with the audience. Some of the topics which brought out certain unique experiences and thoughts regarding India's 'unity in diversity' are : 'Your Favourite Indian Monument', 'Your Favourite Indian Dish', 'Your Favourite Indian City', and 'Covid-19 Pandemic in India'. Certain topics, such as 'The Most Special Day in Your Life', 'The Biggest Lesson You Have Learnt in Life', 'The Most Difficult Challenge You've Faced' and 'Your Aspiration in Life', brought individual qualities in students from varied backgrounds and instilled in them a sense of bonding and respect for each other. India is replete with diversity and the purpose of this programme was to inspire students to indulge in positive, impactful thoughts and ideas for the betterment of their nation. 24 students participated in the programme and they were judged by the convenor, primarily on three factors : 1. Addressal of the topic and relevant content; 2. Vocabulary and lastly, 3. Body Language, and were marked on a scale of 10. Oendriila Chakraborty, Amit Patra and Gopal Kumar jointly secured the first position with an admirable score of 8 out of 10.

Name of the activity: Health and Hygiene Awareness program - Study and analysis of design and hygiene of street food outlets year : 2018-2019 to 2019-2020

Organising unit/ agency/ collaborating agency: NSS Unit

The assignments in this academic year focused on cleanliness. There were two assignments taken up at the beginning of the academic year 2018-19. This is one of them and it continued into the next academic year. The other was a campus cleaning activity.

The idea of this project germinated from the frequent use and dependence of student and staffs of college and the staff from the local industries on the road-side eateries around the college. The final year thesis students and fourth year student volunteers, under the guidance of Professor Suranjana Chaudhuri, reconnoitered these shops and users in even semester of 2019 (academic year 2018-19), i.e. the semester in January to June 2019. After studying the activities in detail, this group guided and coordinated with the first semester students (July to December 2019, academic year 2019-20) to carry out a detailed study on a spot in Park Street, Kolkata, a central business district in Kolkata.

In AY 2019-20, a cluster of 6-7 food-vendor kiosks / shops on Park Street footpath was chosen to study the process and space-dynamics of the food making and selling service. Violations of hygiene norms, adjustments and improvisation with limited resources were studied and documented. The submission was a report from the entire team of 1st semester students after the semester-long activity. The senior students offered guidance about space and activity analysis and architectural drawing to the 1st semester students. This kind of activity can be detailed out into a proposal to present to different government and non-governmental bodies and individual vendors.
